At Chevron, we are committed to being a good community partner.

Kitimat LNG has the potential to be a key contributor in helping British Columbia become a major liquefied natural gas supplier. We believe we have an important role to play in improving the quality of life in communities where our project has a presence. We support programs that help move us toward our collective goal to create strong, healthy communities.

Kitimat LNG focuses its social investment in the areas of health and K-12 education, contributing to community partnerships that meet identified needs while delivering sustainable and measurable outcomes. Wherever we are, we strive to be a good neighbour, sharing the concerns of our communities and working to create a better future.
